Welcome to Buenos Aires

WHY BUENOS AIRES?

This is an extraordinary city, where every street corner, public square and building has a story to tell. Its parks, bars, bookstores, museums and milongas capture the heart of everyone who visits.

Buenos Aires is ideal for all kinds of events: congresses, conventions, fairs and incentive tourism. Its diverse and growing infrastructure fits the needs of every type of meeting. With more than 60,000 hotel beds, 3,000 restaurants, 130 museums and 287 theaters, Buenos Aires is undoubtedly the city for your next meeting.

According to a 2013 survey conducted by the International Congress and Convention Association (ICCA), Buenos Aires is the city with the highest number of congresses in North and South America. Its reputation is backed by the quality of its facilities and professional services, and the commitment of the Board of Tourism and the Buenos Aires Convention & Visitors Bureau (BAC&VB).
WHY BUENOS AIRES?

CONNECTED WITH THE WORLD
From its convenient location in South America, Buenos Aires is connected with the main cities of the region and the world. Its two international airports receive over 700 international flights per week. Just three hours from Rio de Janeiro and two from Santiago, Buenos Aires is a regional and international strategic location.

CULTURAL CAPITAL OF TANGO
Buenos Aires is the cradle of tango. The magic of its melodies can be felt in every corner of local neighborhoods La Boca, San Telmo, Abasto, Boedo and Almagro, capturing the hearts of visiting tourists from around the world. Tango classes, live shows and the “Buenos Aires Tango Festival and World Championship” are just a few of the options to experience the 2x4 rhythm firsthand.

CREATIVITY MILL
Buenos Aires—a creative capital—has captured everyone’s attention for locally produced design, art and content. In 2005, UNESCO declared Buenos Aires a city of design as part of its Creative Cities Network. There are several creative districts (Audiovisual, Arts, Technology and Design) where the production of creative contents and services are concentrated.

SUITABLE FOR ALL AUDIENCES
From youth hostels to five-star hotels; gourmet restaurants to street carts; to rides along the river in a catamaran to free outdoor performances, the city offers activities for all tastes and budgets.

HOST OF INTERNATIONAL EVENTS
The city is host to international events throughout the year. Concerts, operas, ballets, sporting events, festivals and big fairs, in addition to hundreds of congresses and thematic conventions, of the likes of Oil&Gas, Automechanika and ICCA Congress, for example. Tourists from all over the world come to enjoy Lollapalooza, the International Book Fair, the ATP of Buenos Aires and the Argentine Polo Championship, among others.

A CITY THAT NEVER SLEEPS
Whether by bus, on foot or a bicycle, there are many ways to enjoy the different tourism circuits, museums, art galleries, historic monuments, shopping malls and open-air fairs. At night, the lights of bars and restaurants come on to illuminate an unforgettable selection of dining and entertainment options.

RECOGNIZED IN THE ACADEMIC COMMUNITY
Buenos Aires is internationally recognized for the academic level of its public and private institutions, and its experience in research & development. Each year, students from around the world come to study. With nine public universities and 20 private universities, the city offers the appropriate facilities for national and international conferences.

GREEN AND PURE
Its parks and green spaces invite you to enjoy outdoors alone or with others. ARBUS

Arbus bus service connects the Jorge Newbery Airport with neighborhoods throughout the city, including Retiro, Palermo, Belgrano and Puente Saavedra, at a very affordable price.
History, tango, the sophisticated, the modern and the cool can be found in this city, where there is always something new and thrilling to discover.

SEE THE CITY
Make the most of your visit to Buenos Aires with these itineraries, which combine small samples of the heritage and charm that make the city so unique.

HISTORIC BA
The street corners, public squares and buildings of the San Nicolás and Monserrat neighborhoods are saturated with the city’s history. From the mythical Plaza de Mayo, you can see the Casa Rosada (House of Government), the Metropolitan Cathedral and the Cabildo. At the end of Diagonal Sur, the Obelisk gives way to the Corrientes and 9 de Julio Avenues, a classic postcard image of the city. Nearby is the imposing Colon Theater, one of the ten best opera houses in the world, renowned for its acoustics and the artistic value of its building. On Corrientes Avenue, the night vibrates between the marquees of the theaters, record and bookstores and many options to enjoy a tasty meal.

TANGO BA
In the neighborhoods of La Boca, San Telmo and Balvanera, discover the feeling of the city’s outskirts. The Riachuelo River, with the old Avellaneda Bridge and the Caminito street fair reflect the roughness of the port, just as the artist Quinquela Martin painted it in the early twentieth century. Moving toward the city center, the majestic Bombonera stadium of Boca Juniors football team interrupts the landscape of low houses. Past Lezama Park is Plaza Dorrego, at the heart of San Telmo, famous for its Sunday antiques fair. Going deeper into the city, you reach the Abasto, a mythical neighborhood and home to the tango singer Carlos Gardel. There, you can visit the passageway, monument and museum dedicated to this tango legend.

ELEGANT BA
There is no better way to understand why Buenos Aires is nicknamed “the Paris of South America” than a stroll through the neighborhoods of Retiro and Recoleta. From the San Martin Square you can see the Kavanagh, a rationalist-style building declared World Heritage Architecture Site by UNESCO. On Alvear Avenue, you can see emblematic works of neoclassicism and art nouveau, including mansions and stately homes, and luxury hotels. At the end of this street are the public square Plaza Francia; the Basilica of Our Lady of Pilar and Recoleta Cemetery, a national landmark that houses famous vaults and mausoleums.
In Puerto Madero, the old docks of red bricks were converted into modern office buildings, alongside cutting-edge design complexes. In this neighborhood, water and women are the protagonists; among its monuments is the Fountain of the Nereids, by the sculptor Lola Mora, and the Bridge of the Woman, designed by architect Santiago Calatrava. At Dock 3, you can visit the Frigate Sarmiento, now a museum. Art also takes place along these river banks. Faena Arts Center, built in the former engine room of a mill, offers a program of experimental and international exhibits; the Fortabat Art Collection, showcases jewels from artists like Breughel, Turner and Warhol. For a relaxing, outdoor option, the Costanera Sur Ecological Reserve is a protected area where numerous plant and animal species are preserved.

Palermo’s unique and original style distinguishes it from the rest of the city. The neighborhood has an aristocratic side, known as Palermo Chico, delimited by Ave. Del Libertador and a densely wooded area and park. On Sarmiento Avenue is the Planetarium Galileo Galilei, where visitors can see about 8,900 stars, planets and satellites of the universe in the hemispherical projection theater. On Ave. Del Libertador, you can enjoy traditional equestrian culture at the Argentine Polo Field and Palermo Race Track. Around Cortázar Square is the area of Palermo Viejo, where designers of clothing, furniture and objects display their production. Between the avenues Juan B. Justo, Santa Fe, Cordoba and Dorrego, there is a gastronomic center. The area is nicknamed Palermo Hollywood for the high concentration of television and film producers.

Flore is the neighborhood that gave birth to His Holiness Francis, born Jorge Mario Bergoglio, in 1936. Here he worked to help those who were the neediest. Every Thursday, around 3pm, a walking tour leaves from the San José de Flores Church (6950 Rivadavia Avenue) and visits the places that were part of his history. On weekends and holidays, there are guided bus tours. Visitors must make a prior reservation to participate in the walking tour: circuitopapal@buenosaires.gob.ar

24 HOURS
Begin your day in San Nicolás, visiting the Plaza de Mayo and the Obelisk. Next, head over to San Telmo and then to La Boca for lunch. After lunch, hop onto one of the tourist buses and head over to Puerto Madero. Spend the late afternoon strolling through the elegant neighborhood of Recoleta and end your day in Palermo.

On the second day, visit some of the traditional porteño neighborhoods, like Belgrano or Palermo. Have lunch in a traditional bodega; during the afternoon, walk along Corrientes Avenue and Florida Street, and visit one of the notable bars. That night, hit the dance floor to the 2/4 rhythm of tango at a tango cultural center or one of the city’s many milongas.
VENUES FOR EVENTS

Considered the cultural capital of Latin America, the city is prepared for all types of events. Every year thousands of companies and organizations choose to carry out their meetings here, captivated by the city’s gastronomy, architecture and more than 150,000 m² of exhibit space.

GREEN SPACES

Buenos Aires offers many large expanses of green spaces and multiple outdoor experiences to enjoy, from biking to bird watching.

Tres de Febrero Park
The park, popularly known as the woods of Palermo, is known for its forested areas, artificial lakes and rose garden. With over 400 hectares, it is the most popular green space in the city, enjoyed by everyone.

Thays Park
This green space of approximately 4500 m² was named after French landscape architect Carlos Thays. Within the park, there are many artistic works on display, including the United Nations statue by sculptor Marta Minujín; Masculine Torso, by Colombia artist Fernando Botero; Pro National Culture monument by the Italian sculptor Alejo Afani; and “The Tree,” by the artist Néstor Basterretxea.

Japanese Garden
It was built by the Japanese community and inaugurated in 1967 on occasion of a State visit to Argentina by then-Crown Prince Akihito and Princess Michiko of Japan. In addition to its garden, it has a cultural activities center, a restaurant, a nursery, and a gift shop. Admission is charged and the proceeds go to the upkeep of the cultural center and grounds.
Botanical Garden
The gardens offer a nice place for a walk or just to sit and relax. On its seven hectares, there are around 6,000 plant species, a botany library, three distinct landscape gardening styles (French, Roman and Oriental), a herbarium and five greenhouses, a large collection of sculptures and a English-style manor house for art exhibitions and workshops.

Costanera Norte Sports Park
Located in Saint Tropez Park along Costanera Norte, it is one of the meeting points for fans of extreme sports, such as skateboarding, longboard, bowl skating, flatland skating, inline slalom, mountain biking, bicipolo and La Palestra (rock climbing). Built by the city government, the park has an outdoor fitness circuit, a park for events and concerts, and LED lighting system powered by solar energy.

Costanera Sur Ecological Reserve
Located between Puerto Madero and the banks of the Rio de la Plata, it is the city’s first protected area. On these 360 hectares of green space, visitors can enjoy its lagoons and marshes, forests of alder trees and pampas grass. It is ideal for walking tours and bird watching, reservations by mail visitasguiadas_recs@buenosaires.gob.ar

ENTERTAINMENT AND LEISURE
COMMERICAL THEATERS
Corrientes Avenue, near the Obelisk, is the starting point of this tour. These theaters offer spectators a wide selection of live entertainment from musicals and tango shows, revues and local adaptations of international works. Among the most important theaters are the Lola Membrives, National, Astral, La Plaza, Metropolitan and Ópera.

CORRIENTES AVENUE
Along this avenue is the largest number of bookstores, theaters, pizzerias and cafes in the city. Nicknamed “the street that never sleeps” for its vibrant nightlife, it witnessed the golden age of tango. Its bars, theaters and cabarets brought together the great musicians of the thirties, forties and fifties.

NOTABLE BARS
There are bars that because of their antiquity, architecture or local significance, are considered “notable” and officially form part of the city’s cultural heritage. Conversing with someone over a café “cortado” (a small coffee with a dash of milk) is a typical porteño ritual.

CALENDAR

SUBWAY

Six subway lines run below the city: A, B, C, D, E, H. Users can add credit to their SUBE card or purchase single ride tickets at each station. There is only one rate for all six lines. Service is available Monday through Saturday from 6am to 10pm, and on Sundays and holidays from 8am to 10pm. Some lines have slightly longer hours.

TRAINS

The suburban rail network is a good alternative for visiting tourist areas outside the city limits or for travelling to the more remote areas of the city. There are four terminal stations located throughout Buenos Aires that serve different routes:

- Retiro Station: trains to/from the north of Greater Buenos Aires and neighborhoods like Belgrano, Núñez, Villa Urquiza, Villa Devoto, etc.
- Constitución Station: trains to/from the south of Greater Buenos Aires.
- Once Station: trains to/from the west of Greater Buenos Aires and neighborhoods like Caballito, Flores and Liniers.
- Federico Lacroze Station: trains to/from the northeast of Greater Buenos Aires.

There are several ways to get around this great city. For public transport, we suggest that you get yourself a rechargeable SUBE card to pay for train, bus and subway fares. Without the card, fares are higher.
TAXIS

Taxis are painted black and yellow. They can be stopped right on the street or called by phone or using a mobile application. The cost of the trip is calculated based on the distance and time. The rate, which is expressed in pesos, will appear on a screen visible to the passenger. From 10pm to 6am, an evening rate applies, which is 20% higher than the daytime rate.
